

Caution: Blades are sharp!

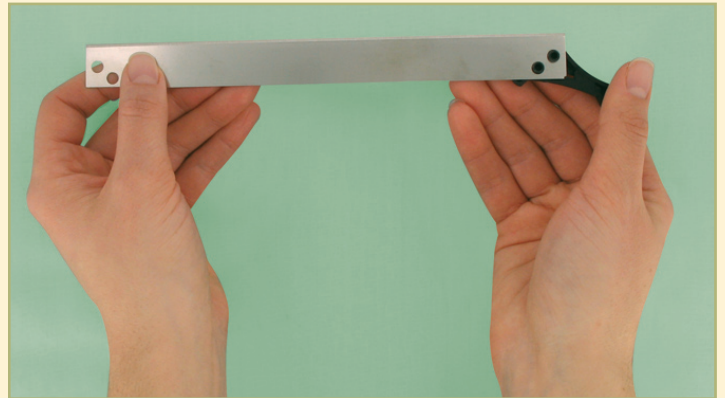

Opening handles

Each Super Slicer package comes with one set of detachable handles. To place these handles on a blade, you will first need to disassemble the handles. Do so by removing the green saddle and pulling apart the two black pieces. You should now have three pieces; a green saddle, a male black piece and a female black piece.

Attaching handles to blades

Holding the sharp edge away from your body, place fingers over the holes on either side of the blade. Press the pegs from the male black piece through holes on the blade. For correct placement, longer part of handle should be angled slightly up diagonally from blade (see picture on left). Hold handle in place and fit female piece against the other side of the blade. Holding the two pieces together, place saddle on top and snap into place. Match up circular cutout to be sure saddle is facing the right direction. Repeat on other side with remaining handle.

Removing handles from blades

Press sharp side of blade onto a firm, protected surface. Insert pointed object into the circular cutout on top of handle. Gently press upward on saddle to release. Pull both handle pieces away from blade. Repeat with remaining handle.
